The Press Brake Mechanic position at NEFM is a key role within our organization. We are seeking energetic, imaginative and creative individuals with robust skills in manufacturing, machining, hand tools and production processes accompanied by a genuine passion to learn. Your skills will be utilized within a fast-growing and innovative shop environment. NEFM values individuals with creative and practical problem-solving skills and those who take pride in their work, value accountability, integrity, mutual respect and collaboration.

This position reports directly to the Production Manager and is a highly valued role driving our continued success. This role is responsible for setting up tooling and fixturing as well as operating equipment in various sized production runs. Responsibilities include:

- Programming offline
- Operate press brakes to produce three dimensional parts from flat layout
- Coordinate with Engineering team as changes arise
- Verify settings by measuring positions, first-run parts, and sample workpieces; adhering to quality production standards and tight tolerance requirements
- Perform physical functions of the job including lifting up to 70 lbs. and maneuver product as needed
- Responsible for complex set ups, forming, and editing programs at the machine
- Maintain safe operations by adhering to safety procedures, process integrity and regulations including keeping work area and equipment in a clean orderly condition
- Monitoring of calibration of all measuring equipment used and monitoring machinery and tools to ensure safe correct and optimum performance
- Install preset jobs and setup tooling, fixturing and machinery
- Verify the paperwork, print number, revision levels, operation sequence, materials, program and check sheet are all correct and consistent
- Run jobs in an efficient, organized and safe manner while following the work instructions on the print and/or work order sequence
- Maintain the workflow and perform quality audits as required to ensure that the product meets or exceeds the customer specifications

Additionally, the ideal candidate should be able to handle a fast-paced environment with tight turnaround times and must be able to work both independently and as a team member.

NEFM is proud of its reputation as an organization that places customer service, consistent quality and on-time delivery as the cornerstone of our business. NEFM is defined by the following characteristics:

- Our shop is clean, well-organized, and climate controlled
- We are a fast paced, dynamic manufacturing company that creates tight tolerance components
- Management encourages continuing education and job specific training programs
- NEFM is growing rapidly, but we are still a small and agile company, and we encourage you to join us and grow with our winning team
- NEFM develops new ideas at a very fast pace, everyone is encouraged to share their ideas, try new things, and help develop better processes
- At all levels of the company, we are encouraged to be flexible, forward-thinking, inclusive, and take the time to enjoy the rewards of being the best and brightest in our market space
- NEFM offers a competitive compensation and benefits package

This position represents a great opportunity for individuals who are dedicated to the machining industry and are looking to advance their careers. We offer challenging work in a clean, professional, team environment. NEFM offers competitive compensation rates, health care insurance benefits, paid time off, and eligibility to participate in a retirement plan with company matching after a probationary period. Come visit our facility, talk with our employees, and then come grow with us!
